Re: Follow up to General Notice and Request for Information Pursuant to Section 104 of CERCLA for Chemical Recovery Systems, Inc., 142 Locust Street, Elyria, Ohio 44035

Dear Sir or Madam:

On November 9, 2001, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (U.S. EPA) issued a General Notice and Information Request to you pursuant to the Federal Superfund law, Section 104(e) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act (CERCLA) as amended, 42 U.S.C. § 9604(e). This General Notice and Information Request was delivered to you by certified mail. The Information Request required that Checkmate Boats provide certain documents and information within 30 days of your receipt of that letter. On February 22, 2002, U.S. EPA sent a followup enforcement letter. A copy of the General Notice and Information Request was enclosed with that letter. The followup enforcement letter required that you provide information in response to the questions of the Information Request within 15 days of your receipt of this second letter.

Although both deadlines have passed, U.S. EPA still has not received your response to its Information Request. To assist U.S. EPA in gathering information about contamination at the Chemical Recovery Systems, Inc., Site, please provide a complete response to the General Notice and Information Request within 10 days of your receipt of this letter. A copy of the updated General Notice and Information Request letter is enclosed.

If you have not responded to the Information Request because you are concerned that your responses may contain information that you consider confidential, please be advised that you cannot withhold information or records upon that basis. Please refer to Enclosure 5 of the enclosed General Notice and Information Request to assert a business confidentiality claim.

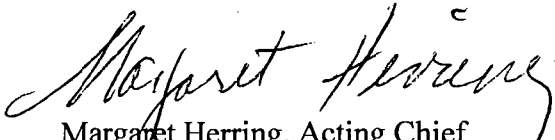

Continued failure to comply with U.S. EPA's Information Request, or to adequately justify such failure to respond, may subject Checkmate Boat to enforcement action seeking to compel compliance and collect penalties of up to $27,500 per day of noncompliance pursuant to Section 104(e)(5) of CERCLA, 42 U.S.C. § 9604(e)(5). U.S. EPA has the authority to use the information requested herein in an administrative, civil, or criminal action.

RE: The Chemical Recovery Systems Site, Elyria, Ohio
General Notice of Potential Liability and Request for Information

Dear

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (U.S. EPA or Agency) has documented the release or threatened release of hazardous substances, pollutants and contaminants at the above referenced facility (Site). To address the dangers and threats to human health and the environment as quickly as possible, several potentially responsible parties (PRPs) have signed an Administrative Order on Consent (AOC) to conduct a Remedial Investigation/Feasibility Study (RI/FS) with U.S. EPA oversight. The Respondents are already two months into the field investigation. All response actions at this Site will be taken pursuant to the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980, 42 U.S.C. § 9601 et seq. (CERCLA), as amended by the Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act of 1986, Pub. L. No. 99-499, 100 Stat. 1613 (1986) (SARA). Responsible parties under CERCLA include the current and former owners and operators, and persons who generated the hazardous substances or were involved in transport, treatment, or disposal of hazardous substances at the Site. Under Section 107 (a) of CERCLA, 42 U.S.C. § 9607 (a), where the Agency uses public funds to achieve the cleanup of the hazardous substances, responsible parties are liable for all costs associated with the removal or remedial action and all other necessary costs incurred in cleaning up the Site, including investigation, planning and enforcement.

The primary objective of the RI/FS is to gather sufficient data to support the selection of the site remedy that will reduce or eliminate risk associated with the contamination at the site.

The Remedial Investigation (RI) involves:

- Characterizing the nature and extent of the risks associated with the contamination in the site soils, sediment, surface water, and groundwater;
- Determining the potential for contaminant transport via air, groundwater, and sediment/surface water pathways;

- Conducting a baseline public health evaluation and an ecological risk assessment; and
- Conducting treatability studies to evaluate the performance and cost of the treatment technologies and to support the design of the selected remedies.

The RI will also include waste characterization, geophysical surveys, excavation of test pits, soil sampling and analysis, groundwater sampling and analysis, and the determination of the site geologic and hydrogeologic characteristics.

The primary objective of the Feasibility Study (FS) is to develop, analyze, and compare a range of remedial action alternatives through the application of the nine established evaluation criteria. The FS is comprised of two main phases:

- Development and screening of alternatives; and
- Detailed analysis of the alternatives.

The data collected during the RI influences the development of the remedial action alternatives in the FS, which in turn affects the data needs and scope of the treatability studies and subsequent field studies.

Prior to the start of the RI field activities, which began July 7, 2003, the following plans were developed and approved by the U. S. EPA:

- Site work plan;
- Site health and safety plan;
- Site security plan;
- Site sampling and analysis plan for the Toxic Compound List/ Toxic Analyte List and Toxicity Characteristic Leaching Procedures parameters;
- Site Quality Assurance Project Plan, and
- Site Community Relations Plan.

For additional information regarding the policy and guidance associated with conducting RI/FS studies see OSWER Directive (9355.3-01) Guidance for Conducting Remedial Investigations and Feasibility Studies (RI/FS) Under CERCLA, October 1988.

The U. S. EPA has received information that you may have owned or operated or generated or transported hazardous substances that were disposed of at the Site. By this letter, U.S. EPA notifies you of your potential liability with regard to this matter and encourages you, as a potentially responsible party, to reimburse U.S. EPA for costs incurred to date and to voluntarily perform or finance the response activities that U. S. EPA has determined or will determine are required at the Site. The U.S. EPA is willing to discuss with you the entry of an appropriate administrative consent order under which you would perform or finance response activities and reimburse U.S. EPA for its costs. If a consent order cannot be promptly concluded, U.S. EPA may issue a unilateral order under Section 106 of CERCLA, requiring you to perform specified work. Under Sections 106 and 107 of CERCLA, you may be liable for reimbursement of U.S. EPA's costs, for statutory penalties, and for treble damages for noncompliance with such an order.

Attachment 7 is a list of the names and addresses of any other potentially responsible parties (PRPs) to whom this notification is being sent. This list is provided to assist you in contacting other PRPs in this matter and to negotiate with U.S. EPA. Attachment 8 is a list of the respondents that have already signed the AOC, executed May 29, 2002, to conduct the RI/FS.

Enclosed is a U.S. EPA Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act Information Sheet (Attachment 9). The information sheet may be helpful, if you are subject to enforcement action by U.S. EPA and you are a qualified small business.

As a potentially responsible party, you should notify U.S. EPA in writing within 10 days of receipt of this letter of your willingness to perform or finance the activities described above. If U.S. EPA does not receive a timely response, U.S. EPA will assume that you do not wish to negotiate a resolution of your potential responsibility in connection with the Site and that you have declined any involvement in performing the response activities.

Your letter should indicate the appropriate name, address, and telephone number for further contact with you. If you are already involved in discussions with state or local authorities, engaged in voluntary cleanup action, or involved in a lawsuit regarding this Site, you should continue such activities as you see fit. This letter is not intended to advise you or direct you to restrict or discontinue any such activities; however, you are advised to report the status of those discussions or actions in your response to this letter and to provide a copy of your response to any other party involved in those discussions or actions.

In addition, U.S. EPA is seeking to obtain certain other information from you pursuant to its authority under Section 104 (e) of CERCLA, 42 U.S.C. § 9604 (e), for the purpose of enforcing CERCLA and to assist in determining the need for response to a release of hazardous substance(s) under CERCLA. The Administrator of the U.S. EPA has the authority to require any person who has or may have information relevant to any of the following to furnish U.S. EPA with such information: (1) the identification, nature, or quantity of materials which have been or are generated, treated, stored or disposed of at, or transported to a facility;

(2) the nature or extent of a release or threatened release of a hazardous substance, pollutant or contaminant at or from a facility and (3) the ability of a company or person to pay for or perform a cleanup. Attachment 1 is a summary of the history of the Chemical Recovery Systems (CRS, Site.

The information requested herein must be provided notwithstanding its possible characterization as confidential information or trade secrets. You may request, however, that any such information be handled as confidential business information. A request for confidential treatment must be made when the information is provided, since any information not so identified will not be accorded this protection by the U.S. EPA. Information claimed as confidential will be handled in accordance with the provisions of 40 C. F. R. Part 2. To request that the Agency treat your information as confidential, you must follow the procedures outlined in Attachment 5, including the requirement that you support your claim for confidentiality.

The written statements submitted pursuant to this request must be notarized and submitted under an authorized signature certifying that all information contained therein is true and accurate to the best of the signatory's knowledge and belief. Moreover, any documents submitted to U.S. EPA pursuant to this Information Request should be certified as true and authentic to the best of the signatory's knowledge and belief. Should the signatory find, at any time after the submittal of the requested information, that any portion of the submitted information is false, the signatory should so notify U.S. EPA. If any answer certified as true should be found to be untrue, the signatory can and may be prosecuted pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1001. The U. S. EPA has the authority to use the information requested herein in any administrative, civil or criminal action.

This Information Request is not subject to the approval requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act, 44 U. S. C. Section 3501 et seq.

Attachment 1 SITE HISTORY

The Chemical Recovery Systems Site (CRS Site) is located at 142 Locust Street in Elyria, Ohio. The CRS Site is bordered on the west by the East Branch of the Black River, to the north and east by the Engelhard (formerly Harshaw) Chemical Company, and to the south by M&M Aluminum Siding Company. The CRS Site is located in a predominantly industrial and commercial area near the central business district of Elyria. The CRS Site consists of four parcels that are currently leased to M&M Aluminum which uses the Site property to store aluminum siding. Most of the Site's 2.3 acres are empty. Two buildings are currently on the CRS Site: a former warehouse and office building and the masonry shell of a building that housed a Rodney Hunt distillery. These buildings are located in the southeast corner of the CRS Site. The foundation of a building that formerly housed a Brighton still is located in the northeast corner of the CRS Site. The CRS Site is fenced on all sides except the side bounded by the East Branch of the Black River.

Beginning no later than the 1940s the CRS Site was used for commercial and industrial purposes such as a coal yard. During the 1950s, Harshaw Chemical briefly leased the CRS Site to store saggars. In 1960, Russell Obitts leased the CRS Site property and relocated his existing business, the Obitts Chemical Company, which reclaimed spent organic solvents, to the CRS Site. Later Russell Obitts and Dorothy Obitts purchased this property.

In 1974, Chemical Recovery Systems, Incorporated, a Michigan corporation (CRS-MI), assumed operations at the CRS Site through a stock purchase agreement with the Obitts Chemical Company. CRS-MI formed a wholly owned subsidiary, Chemical Recovery Systems, Inc., which it incorporated under Ohio law, to operate the former Obitts Chemical Company. In a separate agreement, CRS-MI leased the CRS Site property from Russell Obitts and Dorothy Obitts in a lease agreement with an option to purchase. A year later CRS-MI exercised its purchase option. Chemical Recovery Systems, Inc., an Ohio corporation (CRS-OH) continued operations at the CRS Site until 1981.

Operating as Obitts Chemical Company and then as CRS-OH the facility located on the Site received spent organic solvents from industrial facilities and reclaimed the solvents through distillation processes. Both owner/operators hauled contaminated solvents to the Site facility in their own tanker trucks and in stake trucks hauling 55 gallon drums. Spent solvents were stored in above ground tanks and 55 gallon drums. Soil contamination occurred through leakage and spills. Spent solvents that were transported to the CRS Site include, but are not limited to, the following: acetone, hexane, isopropyl alcohol, methylene ethyl ketone (MEK), tetrachloroethane, toluene, trichloroethane, and xylene. Analysis of samples collected at the CRS Site by U.S. EPA on November 26, 1979, detected PCE, ethyl benzene, and naphthalene. A solvent sample collected on February 5, 1980 contained toluene, ethylbenzene, xylene, and naphthalene. During U.S. EPA's visit to the CRS Site February 5, 1980, an employee of the facility identified specific solvents reclaimed there including paint solvents

Because the CRS Site posed imminent danger to the local population and the environment, U.S. EPA initiated an action under the Resource Recovery and Conservation ACT (RCRA). On October 7, 1980, the U.S. Department of Justice (U.S. DOJ), on behalf of U.S. EPA, filed an action against CRS-OH in the U.S. District Court, Northern District of Ohio, to abate an imminent and substantial endangerment to public health and the environment from the CRS Site. On July 12, 1983, the District Court entered a Consent Decree that required CRS-OH to take these and other actions: excavate all visibly contaminated soils identified during a joint U.S. EPA and CRS-OH inspection; excavate the perimeter of the Brighton still to a specified depth and distance; dispose of the excavated soil at an approved waste disposal site; backfill the excavated areas; and grade the CRS Site. After its inspection of the CRS Site November 7, 1983, U.S. EPA concluded that CRS-OH was in compliance with the July 12, 1983 Consent Decree.

Because hazardous substances released at the CRS-Site remain in the soil and groundwater at elevated levels, U.S. EPA is now taking response actions, under the authority of Section 104 of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 and its amendments.

Several parties, already notified of their potential liability at the CRS Site, have signed an Administrative Order on Consent (AOC) to conduct a Remedial Investigation/Feasibility Study (RI/FS). Field work on the RI began on July 7, 2003.

CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION

You may consider some of the information confidential that the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (U.S. EPA or Agency) is requesting. You can not withhold information or records upon that basis. The Regulations at 40 C.F.R. Part 2, Section 200 et seq., require that U.S. EPA afford you the opportunity to substantiate your claim of confidentiality before the Agency makes a final determination on the confidentiality of the information.

You may assert a business confidentiality claim covering part or all of the information requested, in the manner described by 40 C.F.R. Section 2.203(b). Information covered by such a claim will be disclosed by the U.S. EPA only to the extent and only by means of the procedures set forth in 40 C.F.R. Part 2, Subpart B. [See 41 Federal Register 36902 et seq. (September 1, 1976); 43 Federal Register 4000 et seq. (December 18, 1985).] If no such claim accompanies the information when U.S. EPA receives it, the information may be made available to the public by the Agency without further notice to you. Please read carefully these cited regulations, together with the standards set forth in Section 104(e)(7) of Comprehensive Environmental Response Compensation Liability Act (CERCLA), because, as stated in Section 104(e)(7) (ii), certain categories of information are not properly the subject of a claim of confidential business information.

If you wish U.S. EPA to treat the information or record as confidential, you must advise U.S. EPA of that fact by following the procedures described below, including the requirement for supporting your claim of confidentiality. To assert a claim of confidentiality, you must specify which portions of the information or documents you consider confidential. You must make a separate assertion of confidentiality for each response and each document that you consider confidential. Submit the portion of the response that you consider confidential in a separate, sealed envelope. Mark the envelope confidential, and identify the number of the question to which the envelope's contents are the response.

For each assertion of confidentiality, identify:

1. The period of time for which you request that the Agency consider the information confidential, e.g., until a specific date or until the occurrence of a specific event;
2. The measures that you have taken to guard against disclosure of the information to others;
3. The extent to which the information has already been disclosed to others and the precautions that you have taken to ensure that no further disclosure occurs;
4. Whether U.S. EPA or other federal agency has made a pertinent determination on the confidentiality of the information or document. If an agency has made such a determination, enclose a copy of that determination.

5. Whether disclosure of the information or document would be likely to result in substantial harmful effects to your competitive position. If you believe such harm would result from any disclosure, explain the nature of the harmful effects, why the harm should be viewed as substantial, and the causal relationship between disclosure and the harmful effect. Include a description of how a competitor would use the information.
6. Whether you assert that the information is voluntarily submitted as defined by 40 C.F.R. 2.201(i). If you make this assertion, explain how the disclosure would tend to lessen the ability of U.S. EPA to obtain similar information in the future.
7. Any other information that you deem relevant to a determination of confidentiality.

Attachment 6
DESCRIPTION of LEGAL AUTHORITY

The federal Superfund law (the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act), 42 U.S.C. § 9601, et seq., (commonly referred to as CERCLA or Superfund), gives the U.S. EPA the authority to, among other things: 1) assess contaminated sites; 2) determine the threats to human health and the environment posed by each site; and 3) clean up those sites in the order of the relative threats posed by each.

Under Section 104(e)(2) of CERCLA, 42 U.S.C. § 9604 (e)(2), U.S. EPA has broad information-gathering authority which allows U.S. EPA to require persons to furnish information or documents relating to:

- A. The identification, nature, and quantity of materials which have been or are generated, treated, stored, or disposed of at a vessel or facility or transported to a vessel or facility;
- B. The nature or extent of a release or threatened release of a hazardous substance or pollutant or contaminant at/or from a vessel or facility;
- C. The ability to pay the costs of the clean-up.

Compliance with this Information Request is mandatory. Failure to respond fully and truthfully to each question within this Information Request and within the prescribed time frame can result in an enforcement action by U.S. EPA pursuant to Section 104(e)(5) of CERCLA. This section also authorizes an enforcement action with similar penalties if the recipient of the Request does not respond and does not justify the failure to respond. Other statutory provisions (18 U.S.C. § 1001) authorize separate penalties if the responses contain false, fictitious, or fraudulent statements. U.S. EPA has the authority to use the information requested in this Information Request in an administrative, civil, or criminal action.

U. S. EPA Small Business Resources

If you own a small business, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) offers a variety of compliance assistance and tools to assist you in complying with federal and state environmental laws. These resources can help you understand your environmental obligations, improve compliance and find cost-effective ways to comply through the use of pollution prevention and other innovative technologies.

Hotlines, Helplines and Clearinghouses

EPA sponsors approximately 89 free hotlines and clearinghouses that provide convenient assistance regarding environmental requirements.

The National Environmental Compliance Assistance Clearinghouse provides quick access to compliance assistance tools, contacts, and planned activities from the U.S. EPA, states, and other compliance assistance providers: <http://www.epa.gov/clearinghouse>

State Agencies

Many state agencies have established compliance assistance programs that provide on-site and other types of assistance. Contact your local state environmental agency for more information. For assistance in reaching state agencies, call EPA's Small Business Ombudsman at (800)-368-5888 or visit the Small Business Environmental Homepage at <http://www.smallbiz-enviroweb.org/state.html>.

Compliance Incentives

EPA provides incentives for environmental compliance. By participating in compliance assistance programs or voluntarily disclosing and promptly correcting violations, businesses may be eligible for penalty waivers or reductions. EPA has two policies that potentially apply to small businesses: The Audit Policy (<http://www.epa.gov/compliance/incentives/auditing>) and the Small Business Policy (<http://www.epa.gov/compliance/incentives/smallbusiness>).

These do not apply if an enforcement action has already been initiated.

Commenting on Federal Enforcement Actions and Compliance Activities

The Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act (SBREFA) established an ombudsman ("SBREFA Ombudsman") and 10 Regional Fairness Boards to receive comments from small businesses about federal agency enforcement actions. The SBREFA Ombudsman will annually rate each agency's responsiveness to small businesses. If you believe that you fall within the Small Business Administration's definition of a small business (based on your North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) designation, number of employees or annual receipts, defined at 13 C.F.R. 121.201; in most cases, this means a business with 500 or fewer employees), and wish to comment on federal enforcement and compliance activities, call the SBREFA Ombudsman's toll-free number at 1-888-REG-FAIR (1-888-734-3247).

Every small business that is the subject of an enforcement or compliance action is entitled to comment on the Agency's actions without fear of retaliation. EPA employees are prohibited from using enforcement or any other means of retaliation against any member of the regulated community because the regulated community previously commented on its activities.

Your Duty to Comply

If you receive compliance assistance or submit comments to the SBREFA Ombudsman or Regional Fairness Boards, you still have the duty to comply with the law, including providing timely responses to EPA information requests, administrative or civil complaints, other enforcement actions or communications. The assistance information and comment processes do not give you any new rights or defenses in any enforcement action. These processes also do not affect EPA's obligation to protect public health or the environment under any of the environmental statutes it enforces, including the right to take emergency remedial or emergency response actions when appropriate. Those decisions will be based on the facts in each situation. The SBREFA Ombudsman and Fairness Boards do not participate in resolving EPA's enforcement actions. Also, remember that to preserve your rights, you need to comply with all rules governing the enforcement process.

EPA is disseminating this information to you without making a determination that your business or organization is a small business as defined by Section 222 of the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act (SBREFA) or related provisions.
